Mrs. Appel Accused Her Husband and Miss Goldstein.

WAS JEALOUS AND TOOK POISON

Young Mrs. Annie Appel was taken to the Gouverneur Hospital this morning suffering from Paris green poisoning, while Morris Appel, her husband, and Sarah Goldstein ere arrested, charged with having administered the poison. Nathan Frank, a peddler, of 19 Chrystie street, and Jacob Rosenberg, a baker, whose place is at 176 Rivington street, were also arrested in connection with the case. Rosenberg was charged with aiding the Goldstein woman to escape. Policeman Martin Cahill, of Capt. Strauss's inquiries as to who had sold a box of Paris green to his wife. He stated that his wife had taken the poison.

Officer Cahill went after the man, who said he was Morris Appel and that he lived in the tenement at 28 East Broadway. His wife, Annie, he said, had taken paris green with intent to kill herself, but he didn't know why she had done so.

Cahill accompanied Appel to his apartment, where he found Mrs. Appel in bed in a small dark room. Sarah Goldstein and Nathan Frank were in the room. Cahill gave the supposed would-be suicide a mustard emetic and she vomited a lot of Paris green.

When Cahill asked her why she wanted to die she said: "I don't want to die. I didn't on all buildings using that Company's mashe had done so.
